

Fire Repair Policy

Building permits are required for all Fire Repairs.

A new certificate of occupancy will be issued upon completion of all related permits only, if a home has been excessively damaged by fire, requiring extensive structural, mechanical, electrical and plumbing repairs.

A work list shall be an acceptable plan for building permit submission unless reconfiguration of the dwelling is proposed.

Once a building permit is secured, an initial inspection will be required once all the contents and damaged materials are removed but before any repairs are made.

The building inspector will note any structural repairs and trade permits that will be required at this time.

On dwellings that require a new C of O, a temporary C of O will be issued when all interior work is completed.
